

DISTRICT
EDITION
MONDAY
AUGUST 21, 2006

The Examiner

WASHINGTON

examiner.com

EXAMINER EXCLUSIVE: MILITARY

Company wants the Pentagon to microchip troops

Under-skin implants would work as digital dog tags

PRIVACY CONCERNS: Some members of Congress and veterans groups say more research is needed. » Page 4

AVERT YOUR EYES

Redskins put on a dismal performance against the Jets on Saturday, but things may not be all bad. » PAGE 44

OUT OF HER HEAD

Author Kelly Link's fantasy world » PAGE 22

GIRLY GOODS

Back-to-school cosmetics » PAGE 33

HOT FUN IN THE SUMMERTIME

Jay Westcott/Examiner

Play ball on the Mall

Lindsay Fincher, of Washington, gets a hit Sunday while playing Wiffle ball on the National Mall.

CRIME

Man shot in jewelry store heist

Police offer $10,000 for info about daylight holdup. » Page 5

KATRINA ANALYSIS

Feds still slow with response

Many of Bush's promises to rebuild the Gulf Coast remain unfulfilled. » Page 12

Over 1/4 million dancers since 1976

Dance Factory

703-528-9770 or dancefactory.com

954 N. Monroe St., Arlington at VA Sq Metro

4 WEEK SESSION

$49

CLASSES START AUG. 28TH

Dance Classes!

(Brings out the Animal in You!)

- Ballroom
- Swing
- Salsa